RECENT ARMY CHANGES

6 YEAR RULE: DCS received guidance from OPMG that the "6 Year Requirement" for 926B Active applicants has officially been lifted!

Per OPMG:

"The 6 year requirement is no longer relevant. 926B applicants are authorized as long as they have proper documentation that they HAVE GRADUATED from the school house (MP School or acceptable formal LE Training School) and currently hold an MP MOS. This is IN ADDITION TO THE PRE-EXISTING REQUIREMENTS (one of which is the Commanders Letter, which means they must be actively serving in, and assigned to a unit), and is only applicable to 926B applicants."

MEDICAL LETTER: DCS also received guidance from OPMG that the "Medical Letter Requirement" for Retired/Separated applicants who separated due to a service connected disability has officially been lifted

Per OPMG:

"No Medical letter required since the DD-214 and the application will confirm that they are medically sound to possess a firearm."

RENEWALS: The DCS - LEOSA team has begun accepting Service Requests for Renewals! Card holders can begin applying for renewal up to SIX MONTHS before the expiration date with the Early Bird renewal program and discounted pricing! Early Bird pricing ($100) will be applied to renewals submitted 4-6 months before the expiration date. Applications received within 3 months and up to the expiration date will require the full renewal price ($125). Renewals will require updated personal information, a new passport-style photo, Endorsement letter for 926B cards, and new FBI Identity History Summary for Air Force 926C card holders.

NOTE: The issuance/expiration date of renewed cards will be the same month/day as the initial card unless the application is received AFTER the initial issuance date.

DCS EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

SCOTT MCCABE Scott demonstrated his competence by attending two Fair Opportunity Evaluations at Hanscom AFB to help the Integrated Product Team attempt to identify a suitable contractor for projects at Duluth ANGB, Minnesota and Boise ANGB, Idaho. Scott displayed his capability by recognizing several errors in the Boise proposals which ultimately led to all proposals being rejected. These actions prevented the government from spending approximately $1.5M on a contract that wouldn't have met Air Force requirements.

As the Requirements Support Officer responsible for all Air National Guard projects, Scott reviewed, approved and coordinated two in-depth Operational User Requirements for O-6 consideration and approval. This is one of the final actions required to get these projects approved and ready to begin construction.

Scott went above and beyond in May by helping the DCS Manager review and update the DCS Capabilities Statement. He authored a page of facts and numbers as well as defined the full duty description for Requirement Support Officers at the Air Force Security Forces Center.

DCS ANNUAL LEADERSHIP TRAINING

By Frank Crowder On July 26-27, DCS employees from the El Paso and San Antonio areas participated in our annual leadership development workshop and we made huge progress discussing topics that included the situational leadership model, personality profiling, problem solving, the OODA Loop, etc. Ed Robinson, AKA "The Rainmaker", served as the senior instructor on day #1, while Lugo Santiago, CMSgt (Ret) fulfilled the same role on day #2. Both instructors were outstanding!

During both days of training I felt like I was sitting in a professional military education (PME) seminar. Thanks to the Air Force, I was familiar with every topic each instructor covered and these refresher courses fed my soul!

So I'll share this tidbit with those active duty NCOs and Senior NCOs who dread PME. You should embrace it! Digest it! Apply it! It's free professional development training! You will see it again and you will need to apply it again! If you are attending PME to merely check the box, you are doing yourself a disservice! As usual, please enjoy the pics and click the arrows for more! -fC

AFIMSC Changes Command by Shannon Carabajal

Maj. Gen. Tom Wilcox said he is excited to join the team revolutionizing installation and mission support after taking command of the Air Force Installation and Mission Support Center July 25 at Joint Base San Antonio-Lackland.

"To all the warfighters of AFIMSC, (Marian and I) are honored and humbled to be on your team and look forward to meeting you and getting to know each one of you," Wilcox said.

"You are the experts at integrating installation and mission support across the Air Force and your knowledge is unmatched. I am excited about identifying additional synergies across the enterprise as we work to provide robust, affordable and innovative options to our Airmen."

Wilcox replaced Maj. Gen. Brad Spacy, who is retiring after 32 years of service.

Gen. Arnold Bunch Jr., Air Force Materiel Command commander, officiated the ceremony. He said Wilcox would build upon Spacy's success of fanning innovation and transforming installation and mission support for the Air Force.

"You are getting a great leader, you are getting a servant leader, you are getting a team builder and you are getting a man who is unapologetically himself," Bunch said. "He will take this organization to even new heights; he will drive it even more into the future."

One of six specialized centers assigned to AFMC, AFIMSC provides installation and mission support capabilities to 77 Air Force installations, nine major commands and two direct reporting units with an annual budget of approximately $10 billion.

Over the past few years, AFIMSC has tackled some of the biggest challenges in the Air Force and led the way into a new world of innovation and combat support, Bunch said, stressing that the center plays a vital role in AFMC and Air Force missions.

In the future, Wilcox said the center will be key to achieving national security objectives in defense of our nation. READ MORE
